Investments are not guaranteed and are subject to investment risk including the possible loss of principal. The investment return and principal value of the security will fluctuate so that when redeemed, may be worth more or less than the original investment. Generally, the greater an investment's possible reward over time, the greater its level of price volatility, or risk. Using asset allocation or automatic rebalancing as part of your investment strategy neither assures nor guarantees better performance and cannot protect against loss in declining markets. Investors cannot invest directly in an index.
